

Tom & DeeAnn:

Thank you for the opportunity to come through your property and fish the East Gallatin. Late winter seems to be a great time to be there. The snow is disappearing fast and I didn't see a single human track indicating that anyone had been there before me.

What a treat! Fifty degrees and sunshine and lots of hungry fish. That river is the best kept secret in the valley. There wasn't any activity on the surface yet but the fish jumped all over streamer flies - 12 fish of which 11 were Rainbows and 1 German Brown. They ranged from about 12" to 20" and were really in good shape.

I fished for 3 hours and sometimes just stepped back to admire the awesome panorama of the cabins and the river totally surrounded by three snow covered mountain ranges. What a great way to recharge my battery.

Hope to see you again soon.

Best Regards,
